

How to Use Khan Academy

With Official SAT Prep on Khan Academy[®], you can sharpen your strengths and boost your challenge areas. The course content is developed in partnership with College Board, so you know you're getting official practice directly from the people who created the test. Best of all, it's free!

Here's a snapshot of what you'll find on Khan Academy:

- Practice test breakdowns: After you've taken an SAT practice test in Bluebook[™], log in to My Practice to view your scores. From your scorecard or the Score Details page, click the Practice on Khan Academy button to access a special walk-through course that provides a detailed explanation of every question on that practice test. At the end of each explanation, there's a link to a lesson that covers the skills you need to answer questions correctly.
- Leveled practice: Khan Academy's Official SAT Prep course covers every skill on the test at three levels: Foundations, Medium, and Advanced. Read our study tips below to learn how to make leveled practice work for you.
- Video examples: Each skill in the course features short video walk-throughs of example questions at different difficulty levels. Most videos are around 5 minutes long.
Tip: Pause the video as you watch so you can follow along and try to answer the question yourself.
- Diagnostics, quizzes, and tests: Not sure where to start with Khan Academy? Click into the SAT Reading and Writing course or the SAT Math course and take a Course Challenge, a short test covering all the skills on that test to help you identify which areas to focus on. Once you've started the course, you can also take short skill-specific quizzes and unit tests to check your progress toward mastery.
